

Non-Defining Relative Clauses 14

Complete the email message below using non-defining relative clauses. Use the phrases from the note sheet below to help you. You will need to add relative pronouns 'who', 'which' and 'whose', and commas where necessary.

I only bought yesterday	I have known for a long time
is one of the top design companies here	makes a change from my last job
company I work for	is only improving very slowly
hasn't been working very well for a long time	is lovely by the way
is a nice name I think	is Pilar's brother
I hope you read today	sometimes can be long and boring

Hi Dad,

I'm sending you this message (1) _____ from a café near my hotel (2) _____. I'm using my new laptop (3) _____ but it doesn't have internet access yet. It's a beautiful, sunny day here. I'm waiting for my friend (4) _____ to join me. Her name is Pilar, (5) _____ and she is from Spain.

Normally she sits next to me at work and she always makes the day (6) _____ go faster. We aren't working today because of a problem with the air conditioning (7) _____.

The job is ok. Everyone is very friendly (8) _____ so there is a good atmosphere at work. My company (9) _____ is designing a new sports centre at the moment – it's very high tech. The only problem is my French (10) _____. Pilar's brother (11) _____ has lent me some books to try to improve. Antonio (12) _____. I think he is joining us too today. Anyway, they are both waving at me now so I'd better go.

Take care,
Denise
