When I finished school (1) _____ I applied to study philosophy at two universities, Barcelona (2) _____ and Madrid (3) _____.

I didn't think I had much chance of getting into the university in Barcelona (4) _____ because my exam results at school were not brilliant. However I was lucky and I was accepted there. I had to make two trips to Barcelona before I started, one for the interview and one to find accommodation (5) _____. At the interview I was very nervous, but the interviewer (6) _____ made me feel very comfortable.

While I was studying, I didn't think much about work but after I graduated (7) _____ I had to think about what to do. I realised that languages (8) _____ would be a good option. So I applied for several jobs teaching English abroad. Obviously I didn't have any experience (9) _____ but I thought I had a small chance of being accepted.

In the end I got a job offer from a language school in Sweden. The owner (10) _____ asked me if I could go there straight away. I was a bit shocked but I accepted. The next weekend I had a farewell party and all my friends (11) _____ bought me a beautiful farewell gift. My sister Tina (12) _____ went to Sweden with me to help me settle there.
